Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objectives and Strategies

The Compass Conservative Portfolio (the "Portfolio") aims to preserve principal, reduce volatility, and provide investors with income and the potential for capital appreciation by investing primarily in fixed income securities.

Under normal conditions, the Portfolio holds an asset-mix consisting of 0-24% cash, 60-86% fixed income and 10-24% Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs")/equities. The investments held in the Portfolio are diversified by asset class and investment style to minimize volatility and maximize risk-adjusted long-term returns.

Risk

No major changes were made to the Portfolio's asset mix during the period. The mix is monitored on a regular basis and each asset class is generally kept to within 1% of its target allocation. The risks of investing in the Portfolio remain as outlined in the Prospectus.

Results from Operations

The Portfolio's net asset value increased to $1.8 billion as at December 31, 2019, from $1.7 billion at the end of 2018. The change in asset value was due to a combination of net outflows and investment returns.

Year to date, the Portfolio's Series A units returned 7.95%, out-performing the broad-based index return of 6.87% and underperforming the blended benchmark return of 8.81%. The Portfolio's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, while broad-based index and blended benchmark returns do not include any costs of investing. See the Financial Highlights section for the management expense ratios and the Past Performance section for the returns of any other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses.

The following provides an asset class specific commentary for the Portfolio, returns are inclusive of the Portfolios pro-rata share, where applicable, of any investment in an underlying fund i.e. provided on a look-through basis:

Cash and Equivalent

About 5% of the portfolio is invested in short-term floating rate notes. Interest rates for short-term debt obligations were slightly higher than in prior years, and this part of the portfolio generated a gross return of 2.8% during the year.

Fixed Income

The conventional bond component that represents about 7% of the portfolio experienced a gross return of about 6.9% for the year. The Bank of Canada held its short-term interest rate target constant at 1.75%, whereas the Federal Reserve lowered the US target rate three times in the second half of the year. In late-2018 and through most of 2019, interest rates of longer-maturity bonds fell considerably and thereby imparted a significant price gain to those bonds and also to the broad bond index.

The investment grade corporate bond component that represents about 27% of the portfolio had a return well above average but didn't fully participate in the bond rally because it holds fewer long-maturity bonds. This component of the portfolio generated a gross return of 6.4% for the year.

The high-yield corporate bond component that represents about 34% of the portfolio experienced a 5.9% gross return in the year. This portion of the portfolio consists primarily of corporate bonds that are either of short maturity or have floating-rate coupons, and so it was affected only somewhat by the long-bond rally.

The commercial mortgage component that represents about 8% of the portfolio generated a gross return of 4.6% for the year. This component's return exceeded its long-term average but its underlying mortgages, which are of medium-term maturity, took part only slightly in the long-bond price rally.

Real Estate Investment Trusts

REITs represent about 1% of the portfolio. REIT prices rose sharply, particularly in the first quarter of the year, and along with their dividend income their gross return for the year was 23%.

Equities

The conventional large-cap stocks that together comprise about 18% of the portfolio had a very strong year, as they first recovered from their late-2018 decline and then continued to rise, albeit at a slower pace through the rest of 2019. Canadian and overseas stock returns for the period were each about 20%, and US stock returns were higher yet at 32%.

Summary

The portfolio largely mirrors the performance of dedicated corporate bonds, along with significant contributions from cash-and-equivalent, conventional bonds, commercial mortgages and equities. All the major asset classes exhibited above-average returns for the year and so the resulting portfolio return was also well above average.

Changes

The Portfolio continued to make investments in securities backed by commercial mortgages. As of December 31, 2019, these investments accounted for approximately 8% of portfolio weight.

Recent Developments

The continued worldwide spread of novel coronavirus ("COVID-19") and its impact on international business operations, supply chains, travel, commodity prices, consumer confidence and business forecasts, and the associated impact on domestic and international equity markets and fixed income yields, is expected to have a material impact on all equity and fixed income portfolios during the first half of 2020, and potentially beyond. We continue to monitor developments in equity and fixed income markets generally, and particularly in connection with the Portfolio. While it is too early to predict the impact of COVID-19 related factors, during a time of increased uncertainty and volatility, we expect that the performance of all investment portfolios, including the Portfolio, will be affected in the near term.

As of May 15, 2019, QV Investors Inc. ("QV") ceased to act as sub-advisor to ATB Investment Management Inc. QV was replaced by Cidel Asset Management Inc. and Cardinal Capital Management Inc.

There are no other developments to report at this time related to the strategic positioning of the Portfolio, the manager, or to the policies of the IRC.

Related Party Transactions

Throughout the period, the Portfolio used the services of ATB Financial and its subsidiaries for administration of the Portfolio. The total value of services rendered by ATB Financial, and its subsidiaries to the Portfolio, was $59,202.

Caution Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This report may include forward-looking statements about the Portfolio. These statements “Results from Operations” and “Recent Developments” may involve, but are not limited to, forward-looking statements about the Portfolio and may make references relating to strategy, risks, expected performance and condition. Forward-looking statements typically use words like “anticipate”, “believe”, “estimate”, “expect”, “intend”, “may”, “plan” or other similar expressions or future or conditional verbs such as “could”, “should”, “would” or “will.”

By their very nature, forward-looking statements require numerous assumptions and are subject to inherent risks and uncertainties, both general and specific, concerning future performance, strategies or prospects and possible future portfolio action. A number of factors could cause actual future results, conditions, actions or events to differ materially from the current expectations, estimates, intentions or projections about future general economic, political and other relevant market factors in North America and internationally including, but not limited to, interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity and capital markets, business competition, technological changes, catastrophic events and the general business economy. Such factors assume no changes to applicable tax, other laws, government regulation or legislation.

The Portfolio cautions readers that the aforementioned list is not exhaustive. Anyone reading and relying on forward-looking statements should carefully consider these and other factors that could potentially have an adverse affect on the Portfolio’s future results as there is a significant risk that forward-looking statements will not prove to be accurate.

Readers should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, as actual results may differ materially from plans, objectives, and expectations. The Portfolio does not undertake to update any forward-looking statement contained in this report.
